Police arrested three people, including one man on charges related to credit card theft, in Secaucus on Friday in a three-day, open-air police raid.

The Sept. 7 and 8 raids, part of an operation to shut down fraud based on the south end of Meadowlands Parkway & Augustine with an investigation into credit card fraud.

During the investigation, police charged Justice Lopez, 33, of Jersey City, with possession of stolen credit cards, credit card fraud, receipt of stolen property and possession of stolen property.

Lopez is accused of using stolen credit cards to buy a car in Secaucus from a carwash with a total of $1,000 and to buy a laptop from a local electronics store.

Other arrests were made in Secaucus on Friday and Saturday. Police also arrested a 21-year-old woman from Jersey City in an unrelated incident on Sept. 8.

The Meadowlands Police Department arrested the 21-year-old on her own residence and she was subsequently released from police custody.

On Sept. 7 at 9:45 p.m., police observed two men being transported to the parking lot of the Best Street Motel, New York, and charge them with possession of counterfeit money and being under the influence of drugs.

Police arrested the couple in Secaucus and she was subsequently released from police custody.
